Roy Klein Education Foundation Awards Terry Campus Scholarship Recipients

DOVER- The Roy Klein Education Foundation's founding committee presented scholarship certificates to two students from the Delaware Technical & Community College, Terry Campus on Monday, Oct. 1 at the Sheraton Inn of Dover.

The Roy Klein Education Foundation's mission is to aid in the improvement of education and economic development in Kent County by creating financial support for both.

Recently the organization gave funds to benefit students in the entrepreneurship program on the Terry Campus. The program teaches students how to transform innovative ideas into commercial products and services and how to create and maintain a private business.

"We are lucky to be a part of the foundation's first of many contributions to Kent County," College Vice President and Campus Director Daniel L. Simpson said to the gathered members of the founding committee. "These students' lives will be better because of the foundation's generosity."

Foundation Chairman Dr. Ed Wilchinski welcomed and introduced the scholarship recipients, Tammy Rayne and Katrina Grier. He said it was a pleasure to meet the students and for the group to see who benefits from the groups efforts.

Katrina Grier, of New Castle, is a second-year student enrolled in the Terry Campus entrepreneurship program. Ms. Grier said the scholarship will support her goal of learning how to manage her family's business, Naomi's Creations.

Tammy Rayne, of Dover, is also a second-year student enrolled in the Terry Campus entrepreneurship program. She currently owns Store to Door, a business that provides home-shopping and delivery services to people in Kent County.

“Without this scholarship, I might have had to quit school and get a full-time job to meet my basic needs,” she said. “It's helping me accomplish my educational goals and, in turn, give back to the community.”
