In support of Delaware’s STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) initiative, Delaware Technical Community College offers STEM camps. The Delaware STEM Council was formed in 2010 to ensure Delaware’s children graduate ready to succeed in the high-wage jobs of tomorrow. The camps are designed to make learning fun, and to encourage students to explore careers in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics.

The College is involved in a number of efforts to improve STEM education through academic programs and connected degree agreements with the University of Delaware and Delaware State University. A strong STEM workforce helps Delaware employers continue to be national leaders in an innovative economy, seek out employees who can strengthen their research and development, make their workplaces more efficient, and ensure their business practices are more environmentally sensitive.

For many working parents, spring break means finding an enriching camp to keep the kids occupied during business hours. Campers will spend their day expanding their minds during one of our many STEM activities, or exercising during ‘fitness infusion’.

Please bring a bag lunch, two snacks, water, and sunblock to camp daily.

Call 302-857-1400 for more information.

STEM: Programming & More with Raspberry Pi (9am - 4pm) ENU 174 600
Raspberry Pi - a single board computer that’s the size of a credit card! This capable little computer can be utilized in the same way as your PC: creating spreadsheets, word processing, playing games, and watching high definition videos. Build your own and take it home at the end of the week.

WEEK 8 • 7/29-8/2
STEM: “Top” Engineer (9am - Noon) ENU 190 600
Learn about the worlds of physics, engineering, product design, and 21st century manufacturing through hands-on experience with the latest computer-aided design tools and manufacturing equipment, including 3-D printing. Design and build your own high-tech spinning “top” with assistance from college faculty. The tops will be launched in a specially designed high speed tester to determine who will earn the title of “Top Engineer” with a record-breaking spin.

Camp-on-Campus: Discover Your Superpower (1 - 4pm) ENU 185 612
Batman, Mr. Incredible, Wonder Woman, and more ask you to join us for a week-long adventure of learning what a true hero is and becoming a superhero yourself! This camp takes on a design-thinking approach centered around leadership and character development. Campers will engage in fun, hands-on activities – games, story adventures, art projects, and superhero challenges. In learning how to become a superhero, campers will work on developing the “Super Seven”: empathy, collaboration, optimism, determination, resiliency, integrity, and self-efficacy. Developing the “Super Seven” will inspire campers to go further and learn how to become a super leader and harness the power of good and influenced decisions.

WEEK 9 • 8/5-8/9
STEM: Junk Structures (9am - Noon) ENU 088 600
Campers have fun as they work in groups to plan and build structures using recyclable materials. Nothing is off limits in this wacky world of engineering. Will a mouse trap become a race car? Will pasta noodles become a bridge? Will a soda bottle be a rocket? In addition to gaining experience with science concepts, these activities teach interpersonal skills such as presenting ideas, negotiating with other campers, and organizing the workload.

Camp-on-Campus: Yoga for Kids (1 - 4pm) ENU 189 611
Playfully explore yoga through games, music, and art! Yoga has many benefits for children including enhancing their flexibility, strength, and coordination. It helps develop a sense of calmness and relaxation while nurturing self-esteem and focus. In this fun-filled class, we will practice yoga poses, breathing exercises, and relaxation techniques. Please bring your own mat.

WEEK 10 • 8/12-8/16
STEM: Robo Engineers (9am - 4pm) ENU 171 611
Discover the important fields of robotics, engineering, and manufacturing while using your imagination to complete an innovative project. Campers work in small teams to design, program, build and test robots using the LEGO Mindstorms® kits.
