Abnormal Minds

What happens when the most complex organ in the human body, the one that drives all beliefs, emotions, and actions, tells you that the world is only as good as the evil that exists in it, and you are more than happy to be the evil to balance out the good? Then you have entered an abnormal mind. Join us as we investigate the complex and disturbing nature of psychological disorders and pathological behavior. Meets requirements for Human Services and Criminal Justice students.
